

NEGRO ATTEMPTED TO KILL WHITE FOREMAN

ERNEST SHAW IN A CRITICAL CONDITION

SKULL FRACTURED

Marvin Howard, a Negro Plantation Hand, Struck Overseer Behind Ear With Rock

Following closely upon the killing of a negro by a white foreman Friday afternoon, negro plantation hand attempted to kill Ernest Shaw, foreman of the John Pruitt plantation. Mr. Shaw was struck behind the ear and his skull was fractured. He was at once rushed to the Anderson county hospital and at an early hour this morning the hospital authorities said that while Mr. Shaw's condition was very serious, it was reasonable to believe that he might recover.

The Pruitt plantation is in the Starr neighborhood and from the information available it seems that the foreman and the negro had a dispute, arising from the foreman's discipline of the negro. The negro, for his chance, let fly with a rock, inflicting the injury.

It was said last night that the blow from the rock was so severe that it fractured the skull the width of the hand and the wound is very dangerous indeed. Shaw is a man of splendid build and it is believed that his constitution will permit him to recover.

THREW A LEMON AT GOV. BLEASE

One of the Incidents of the Meeting at Greenwood—Jennings in Good Form

An Anderson man who attended the meeting at Greenwood says that Senator Smith made a fine and telling speech. He went into detail over the things that he has done to aid the farmer in the live and a half years that he has been in Washington. His voice was not at its best, but he made a strong impression.

Governor Blease was in fine condition and was well received. He had among his friends a number of visitors from other sections of the state. He made a bitter attack on Senator Smith, stating that the latter had done nothing and is considered a joke in the senate. He claimed that J. L. Sims, of Orangeburg, United States marshal, had worked as a printer on a republican paper, working with negroes to defeat Wade Hampton for governor.

During the governor's speech some one pitched a lemon at him from the window of the court house. The governor stopped and called for the "coward" who had thrown the lemon to show himself. It was learned afterwards that the lemon was thrown by a girl, and that she is not from Greenwood.

He then made his usual speech about not having no apologies to make to any man for any act of his during his career as governor and that none but Bleasesites need apply for jobs from him. If any other than a Bleaseite is holding a commission signed by Cole L. Blease, he lied to get it. He denounced the primary enrollment as a plan to rob the poor man of his vote. He closed amid applause and was given a basket of fruit.

The third speaker was W. P. Pollock of Cheraw, who at first had some difficulty to get the attention of the followers of the governor, but in a short time he had the crowd with him. He told of his reasons for entering the race and gave a short history of his life, as a farmer and as a lawyer. He had served his county in the legislature and challenged any man to put his finger on any black mark in his record. He tackled Senator Smith's should not me returned to Washington. He then got on Blease's record and ripped it. Mr. Pollock made the usual charges against Blease and got a vociferous encouragement. Among other things he gave the lie to the allegation that he is a Jew. Mr. Pollock stated that he is Scotch-Irish and he had proved the Irish part in the campaign. He paid a compliment to the Jews and said if he were one he would not be ashamed of it.

Mr. Jennings made a powerful speech and was given rapt attention. He concluded amid a kind of ovation. He made a strong plea, backing up the reform rules in the democratic primary, and when he had concluded it seemed that everybody in the big crowd understood and approved his explanation. He then got on Blease's record and tore it all to shreds in certain particulars. He said that a white man in Laurens county had shot another who has since recovered, and although he had a petition signed by 1,200 citizens, including many ladies and clergymen, the governor had turned the petition down. On the other hand, there is the Gus Richey case where the governor had pardoned a white man from Abbeville who had been mean enough to seduce a little girl whom he had adopted into his own home and whom he had taught to call him "Papa."

Mr. Jennings made a fine impression and the people begged him to go on.

And Seen Nothing Better.
"Say, did you ever know a woman to buy what she wanted at the first store she came to?" "Yes, my wife frequently does—that is, she returns to it after she's been to all the other stores."

NEW POSTALS ARE TO BE SOLD HERE

Government Will Put New Portrait On All Postal Cards At An Early Date

Official notice of a new issue of a postal card series, with the portrait of Jefferson instead of McKinley, has been received by postmaster Cochran of the local postoffice together with a complete description of the card and instructions as to securing a supply. Some days ago requisition for a large quantity of the series was forwarded from the local postoffice, but owing to the fact that the printing capacity of the department is limited, it is uncertain as to when it will be received.

The Jefferson postal card is known as the No. 8 card. It is the same size as the present card, with the face of McKinley, this being officially designated the No. 4 card. The paper of the recently authorized issue is cream in color and is printed in green ink. The subject of the stamp is a profile portrait of Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States, looking to the left. The background of the portrait is open and is surrounded with a circular border, bearing in capital letters the words, "U. S. Postal Card. One Cent." This border rests upon a curved base containing a ribbon in which appears the name "Jefferson," with the numeral "1" in an ellipse on either end. To the left of the stamp is a horizontal line of Gothic capitals, in the inscription, "This card for address," with a frame of plain lines having concave corners.

Undamaged No. 4 cards now held in stock in the various postoffices of the country, will be valid for postage indefinitely or until the present supply is exhausted. They will not be accepted by the department in exchange for the Jefferson issue.

The Jefferson cards will be issued in sheets of 48, 4 wide and 12 long, when desired for printing purposes, provided they are bought in quantities of 12,000.

NEW RECORD ON WRECKED CARS

Machine Said To Have Been Entirely Ruined Repaired Yesterday and Is Running Again

When Robert (Punkin) McCully and two companions ran into a ditch on Welsh avenue Friday night, it was said that their Ford automobile was entirely wrecked and bystanders at the place expressed the opinion that the machine would hardly be worth carting up town as it seemed to be just about ruined. However, Mr. McCully did not concur in this opinion and he went out on a search for the Ford doctor.

Archie Todd was found and yesterday morning the mechanics from Todd's shops lit onto the job of repairing the car. As a result the car was as good as new yesterday afternoon and the car left at a late hour for Highlands, N. C., for a week-end trip.

This is almost a record in the matter of repairing cars in Anderson and it was quite a feat to put the machine back into shape in such a short length of time.

A GOOD WOMAN DIED YESTERDAY

Mrs. Sallie Hall of Flat Rock Section Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon at 2:30 O'clock

People in different sections of Anderson county will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Sallie Hall, which occurred yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Hall was 67 years of age and had been in feeble health for some time but her death was directly due to paralysis. She had been ill for only a few days but after the attack but little hope was held out for her recovery.

Mrs. Hall is survived by her husband, P. C. Hall, and three children: L. W. and O. L. Hall and Mrs. P. T. Haynie.

The funeral services will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Flat Rock Presbyterian church and will be conducted by the Rev. D. Witherspoon Dodge, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Anderson.

HELD FUNERAL OF J. P. YOUNG

Interment Took Place Yesterday Morning at 10 O'clock at Silver Brook Cemetery

A large party of sorrowing friends and relatives gathered yesterday morning at 10 o'clock to pay the last tribute of respect to J. P. Young, who died in this city Thursday night, and the interment took place at Silver Brook cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. T. C. Odell, presiding elder of the Methodist church for this district and Rev. John W. Speake, pastor of St. John's Methodist church. Mr. Young was one of the oldest men in the county and one of the best loved and he will be sorely missed in all this community.

LOSES A FINGER BUT SAVES HAND

Mr. J. C. Nalley Was Operated Upon Saturday at Anderson County Hospital

J. C. Nalley, proprietor of the High Shoals mills, and residing two miles east of the city, underwent an operation yesterday at the Anderson Hospital.

It will be remembered that Mr. Nalley some months ago met with a painful accident at his mills by having his right hand badly mangled in the cogs of the wheels and despite poison set in but was brought under control, and he has quite recovered. The middle finger, however, was so impaired that it became necessary to amputate removing it entirely up into the hand. Mr. Nalley's many friends will be glad to learn that the operation was able to leave him home last evening. Early in the morning his life was in great danger but he is now much better. Dr. J. C. Harris operated Saturday very successfully.

TREWOLLA TAKEN TO THE ASYLUM

Man Who Tried to Commit Suicide Carried To Columbia By Anderson Officers

Lawrence Trewolla, a carpenter well known around town, was taken to Columbia yesterday afternoon by Constable Lathoun and will be placed in the state hospital for the insane. The interesting fact in connection with Mr. Trewolla being taken away is that he tried to commit suicide in this city on July 4th by throwing himself from a second story window at his boarding house on Orr street. The facts in connection with this case are well remembered by Anderson people. When Trewolla entered the house he called his wife and went up stairs and as soon as they entered the room the man threw himself from the window. For a time it was feared that his neck was broken but he then recovered.

It is presumed that he will be benefited by the treatment in Columbia and it is hoped that he may be entirely cured of his malady.

EXAMINATION IS TO BE HELD HERE

Those Desiring Appointments As Postmaster Will Appear For Civil Service Examination

The proper officials in Anderson have received notice that an examination will be held in this city on August 22 for the purpose of selecting postmasters for points which will at that time be vacant. This is in accordance with an order which has been issued by the president requiring competitive examinations by the civil service commission for the position of postmaster at all fourth class postoffices at which the annual compensation is $180 or more and at which the present incumbent was not appointed under the civil service regulations.

In 28 other towns in this state, examinations will be held on the same day for the same purpose.

In South Carolina, all told, there are 305 postmasters to be selected for fourth class offices and several of these are in Anderson county. Therefore there will probably be a number to appear and stand this examination in Anderson next month.

Miss Agnes LaTour has returned to her home in Oakeswood, after spending several days in the city as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Ashley Briggs, Jr.
